Der wegweisendste Entwurf des böhmischen Bildhauers Dominikus Auliczek ist das Service Perl im Louis-Seize-Stil, das seinen Namen einem Perlstab verdankt, der alle Einzelstücke umrandet. Erstmals in der europäischen Porzellan-geschichte legte Auliczek einem Service eine Zwölfeckform zugrunde – anstelle der üblichen gerundeten Formen. Mit Sepia-Veduten und üppiger blau-goldener Dekoration verziert, war es als Bayerisches Königsservice bis Anfang des 20. Jahrhunderts ausschließlich dem Hause Wittelsbach vorbehalten. 1918 wurde dieses legendäre Service zur Goldenen Hochzeit von König Ludwig III. und Marie-Therese als Sonderanfertigung mit Miniaturmalereien der wichtigsten Lebensstationen des Königspaares gefertigt. Bis heute fasziniert es mit Vedutenmalerei auf höchstem Niveau: Ob Schlossmotiv, Fantasielandschaft oder individuelle Miniaturen, frei von Hand gemalt, tragen sämtliche Veduten die Handschrift der Meistermaler der Manufaktur.

The most pioneering design by the Bohemian sculptor Dominikus Auliczek is the service Pearl in the Louis-Seize style that gets its name from a bar of pearls that runs along the borders of the individual items. For the first time in the history of European porcelain, Auliczek based his service on a dodecagon shape – instead of the usual round shape. Adorned with sepia vedute and a lavish blue-and-gold decoration, it was exclusively reserved for the Wittelsbach House as the Royal Bavarian Service until the beginning of the 20th century. In 1918, this legendary service was created for the golden wedding anniversary of King Ludwig III and Maria Theresa as a one-off production with miniature paintings of the most important stages of the royal couple's life. It is still a captivating piece today, thanks to the superbly painted vedute: whether a castle motif, fantasy landscape, or individual miniatures, painted freely by hand, all the vedute bear the hallmarks of the manufactory's master painters.
